Islamic Politics

The first comprehensive examination of 120 years of the politics of Pan-Islam

The Politics of Pan-Islam

Ideology and Organization

Jacob M. Landau

'On reading the book, one cannot but admire the way in which the author has sought out and combined published and unpublished materials from all over the world. As a result, he has managed to trace a wealth of ephemeral organisations and obscure periodicals and booklets in many languages ... I have no doubt that Landau's latest book, the result of a Herculean effort in collecting, reading, sorting and summing up, will earn its place as a valued work of reference on the shelves of students of the world of Islam for many years to come.' Middle Eastern Studies

0-19-827709-1, 448 pages, hardback, Clarendon Press £50.00

Islam and the West

Bernard Lewis

'brilliant book of essays ... a collection of remarkable learning and range ... You are in the hands of the Islamic world's foremost living historian. Of that world's ordeal he writes with the greatest care and authority and no small measure of sympathy.' Wall Street Journal, Europe

0-19-507619-2, 228 pp., (OUP USA) £17.50

The Turban for the Crown

The Islamic Revolution in Iran

Said Amir Arjomand

'a thought-provoking work and a major contribution to serious scholarship on Iran, modern revolutions and the role of religion in contemporary politics.'

New York Times Book Review

Studies in Middle Eastern History

0-19-504258-1, 296 pp., frontispiece, paperback, (OUP USA) £8.95

0-19-504257-3, hardback £17.50

Islam and Ethnicity in Malay Politics

Hussin Mutalib

'interesting ... The book deserves attention not least because it does offer extremely interesting material for comparative work on Islamic politics as well as the relation between religious factors and the construction of ethnic politics.' Royal Asiatic Society

0-19-588935-5, 226 pp., 4 tables,
(OUP Singapore) £25.00

Gandhi: Pan-Islamism, Imperialism, and Nationalism in India

B. R. Nanda

'Nanda's work, written in an eminently readable style, and drawing on documentary sources in several Indian languages in addition to English, is fascinating.' Times Literary Supplement

0-19-562299-5, 450 pp., frontispiece, 12 pp
halftones, (OUP India) £17.50
